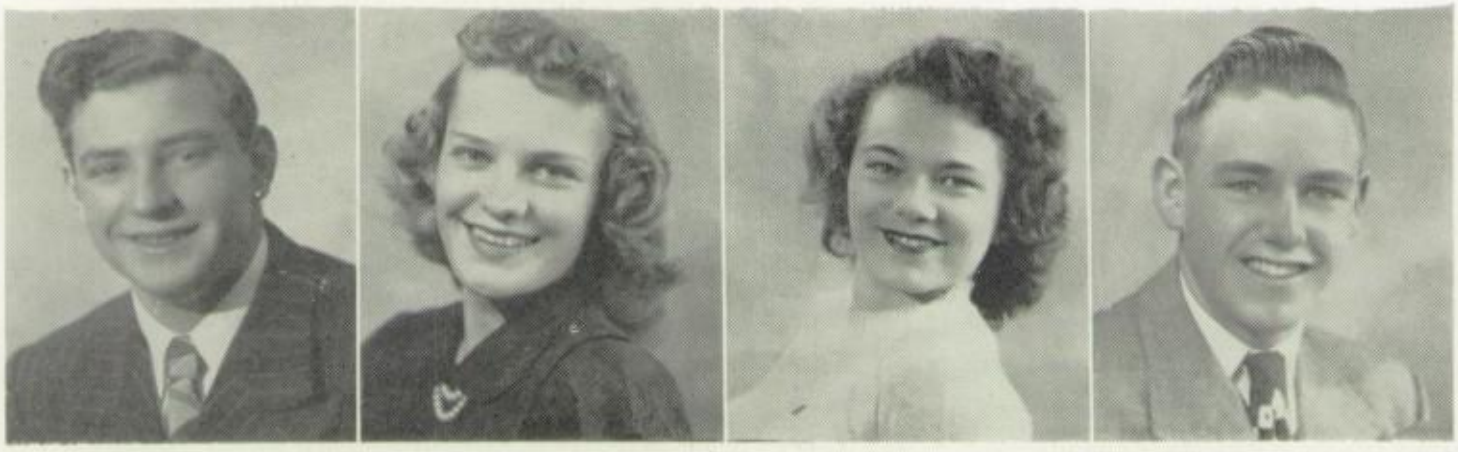
SENIORS

Representative Seniors:



GEORGE BAKER VIOLA SCHNIRRING BARBARA OTTO FRANKLIN DIERENFELD

Our History:

Dragging behind the skirts of our mother's we reported to kindergarten. Although we may have seemed shy in those first days—spirit and enthusiasm soon bubbled forth.

First Grade the willingness to express our ideas prove disastrous. Oh! remember that Scotch tape! At least we learned to keep quiet so we could be snowflakes and brownies in the grade school operetta.

The fascinating game of "jail" took the school by storm. How all of us loved to be captured.

Our artistic talents came out in Junior High when we decorated the library room.

Then came our high school days . . .

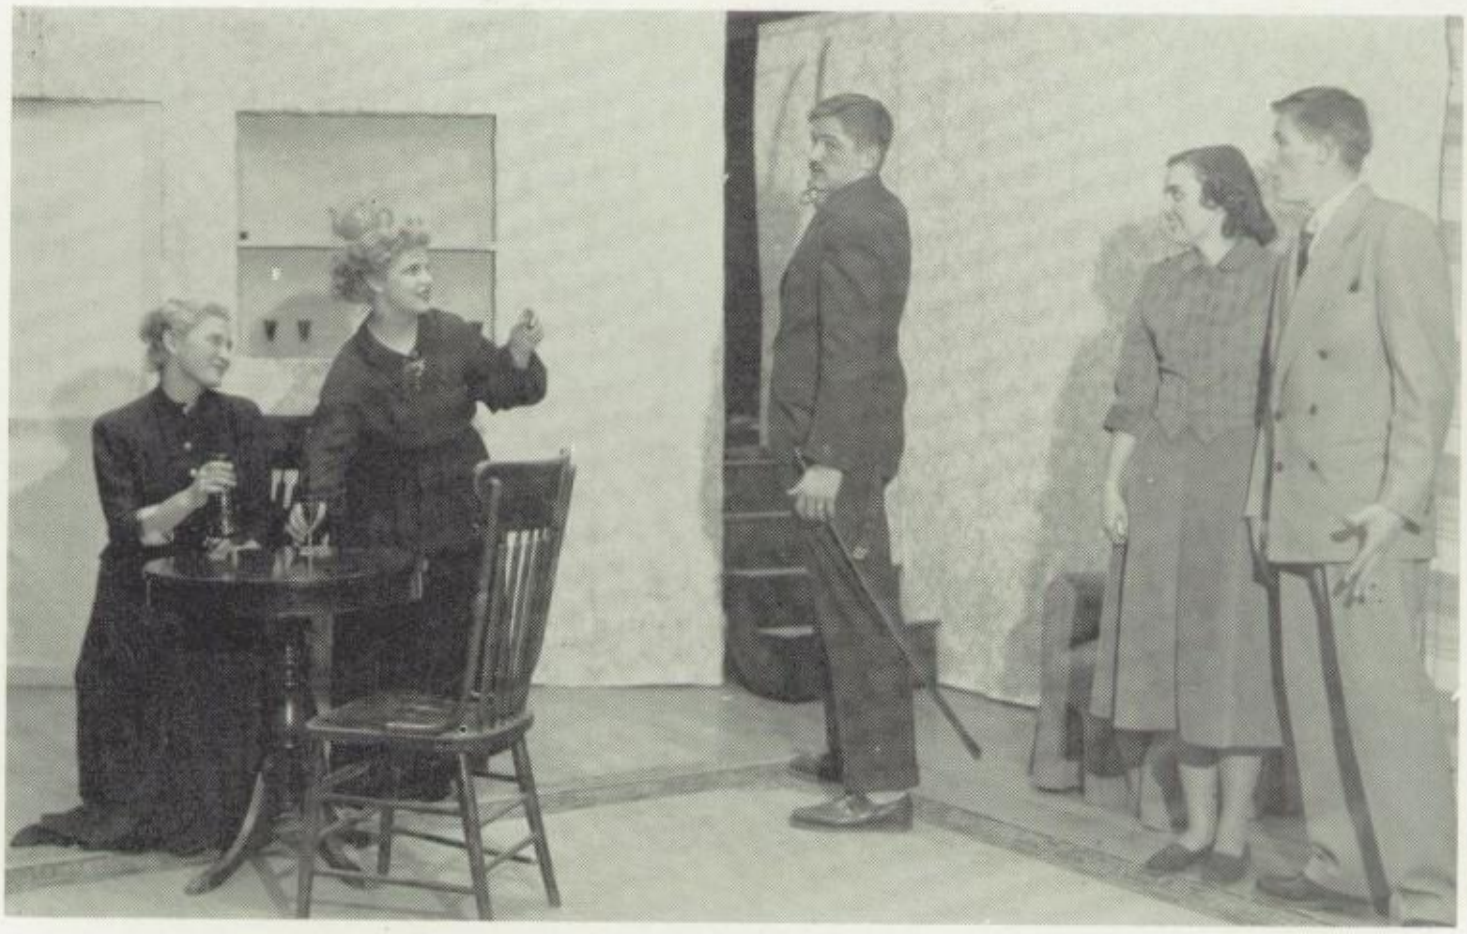
"Arsenic and Old Lace"



For the class play, two of the juniors turned into charming "innocent" old ladies populating their cellar with the dead bodies of their roomers. "Dear" brother thought he was Teddy Roosevelt, and another brother looked amazingly like Frankenstein. Just add their nephew Mortimer's inquisitiveness and amazing horror of death to misunderstandings with his fiancee, Elaine, and you begin to see the confusing and hilarious plot of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Cute, Aren't They?

An engrossing comedy concerning a typical New England family thrown into a state of turmoil because of some seemingly worthless paintings. Christopher Bean, the artist, dies, leaving the paintings to cover his debts. The plot develops when the paintings are found to be valuable. The characters and plot are expertly woven together. All in all, it's a thoroughly enjoyable play.

(This will undoubtedly be a good production under the inspired whip of Rummells. But since the annual goes to press before the play, we, too, can only anxiously wait, and you can supply the pictures and the stars.)

Two of the projects of the F. H. A. were entertaining the kindergarten and sending overseas Christmas packages.

This is the largest organization in school!

Their third year was their most successful. Their "World Christmas Festival" aroused the enthusiasm of all the kids to bring gifts for foreign children.

They went all out for fun and parties by sponsoring the formal St. Patrick Day dance—heaps of fun and a huge success!

The pride of the F. H. A. Chapter was Wanda Russell, their president, who captured the Chairmanship of the State Recreational Committee. She even dashed to the National F. H. A. convention at Columbus, Ohio!

The future looks bright with many aspiring the degree of Junior Homemakers, and with three nominees for the degree of Chapter Homemaker: Marlene Stoelting, Bonnie Rehder, JoAnn Philips.

STATE F. F. A. CONTEST

Burdette Domino ..... Iowa Farmer
Duane Haley ..... Gold Award for Chapter Program

Sac City rates one of three best chapters in Iowa.

They're even carpenters!

Wilmer and friends!!

They grow 'em big in Iowa.

Did you taste that delicious pop-corn at the football game last fall? That was the F. F. A. boys; maybe they got all their extra pep from the trip to the Black Hills last summer. Anyway, their enthusiasm carried over into a busy year of activity like the Harvest Sox Hop when Nita Olson was crowned chapter Sweetheart. Besides the faculty picnic and the parent-son banquet, the F. F. A. boys kept their treasury well filled by selling 50,000 pounds of certified seed potatoes, raising and selling 1,000 bushels of certified Hawkeye Soybeans, buying 27 purebred dairy calves. Don't they sound rich? That's our F. F. A. Chapter!!

F. F. A. Harvest Ball

Our sweetheart, Nita.

Peg, Bev, and Barb show their strength!

"Miss Starlight"

Combine pickles, socialites, wills, fashionable summer resorts, astronomy, plus a beautiful woman from the stars and you have "Miss Starlight," a gay colorful musicale full of love, romance and intrigue.

Drew Crane, who has just turned twenty-one is heir to Crane Pickles Inc., provided he marries a girl of his aunt's choice before he reaches twenty-one.

While his dominating aunt finds a girl she likes and Drew has discovered a stenographer who understands him, a lady from the planet Venus comes to him. As the plot untangles, Drew finds that Miss Starlight is in his imagination only and he really is in love with Flo Randolph, the stenographer.

Sue and Dick, Betty and Pat discover the romance of "Starlight Ballet."

Drew sings to Miss Starlight, "To you, girl of my dreams . . . "

Franklin assures Mrs. VanDyke and Mrs. Flemming, "I am the manager . . . " while Carlotta looks on.

Soprano and alto, baritone and bass, these are the singers who learn the basic rudiments of good singing in Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. Beginning in the fall with fifty-five songsters, the Girls' Glee club had to be cut to thirty-six members for contest work. But the Boys' Glee club lost only one member from their twenty-nine. Their future? As bright as the notes they sing!

As the regular season came to a close, Hoover's rampaging Indians held sole possession of second place in conference play. In non-conference games, the Indians scalped such highly rated teams as Sioux Center, East High of Sioux City, Manning, and Perry. The Indians' record stood at fourteen wins and four losses. No wonder Sac City was proud of these fast-moving, accurate-shooting Warriors!

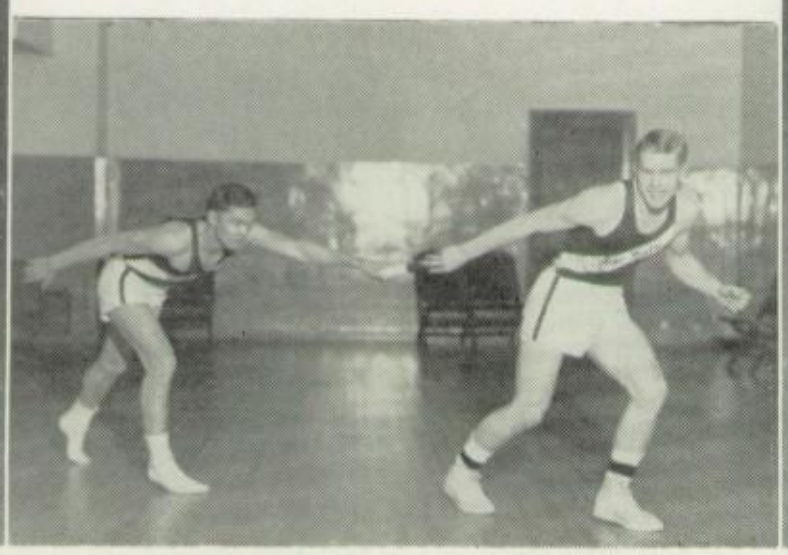
Track -- ... Lettermen

Bill Hatch, Don Haradon, Pat Jennett, Bob Buckley

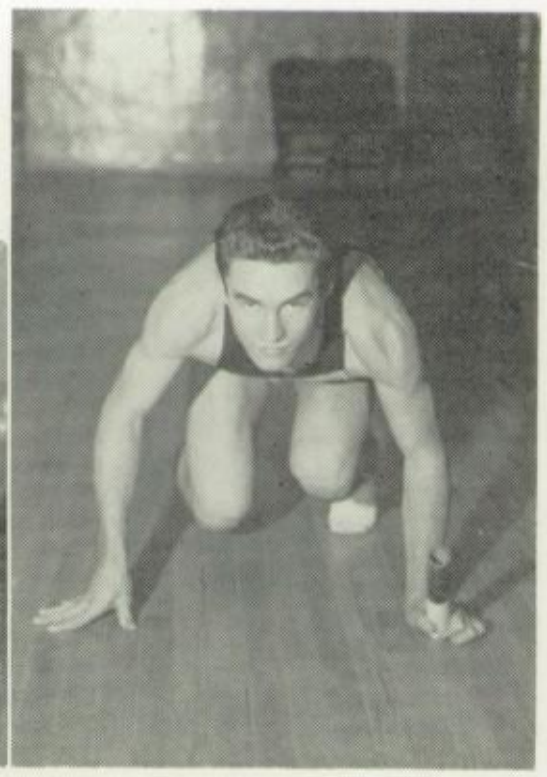
With only these four lettermen returning from 1949's track squad, the 1950 team had to rely on new "stars." Thanks to an abundance of spirited Indians, the season had many thrills and excitement. Eight times Sac's Friendly Indians entered major relays and returned with their full share of scalps—and victories.

—Pat hugging his discus

—Bill passing the baton to Don.



—Buck getting set.



Junior High Sports

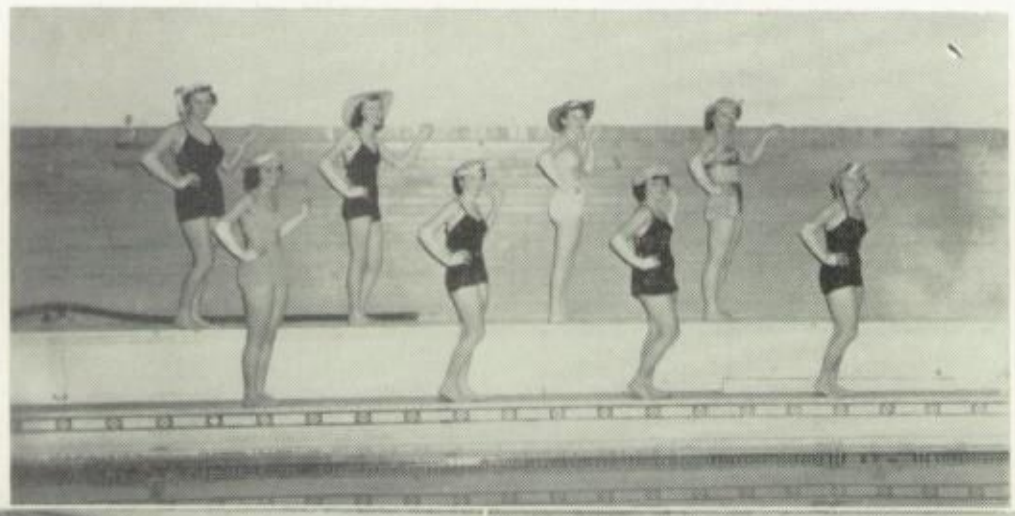
The future warriors of our Senior high are these energetic young athletes. Coached by Darrell Hanshaw and cheered on by their own fond supporters, these Juniors were proud of their football record: 3 wins, 3 losses—and prouder still of their basketball record: 11 wins, 3 losses (all three to Odebolt!)

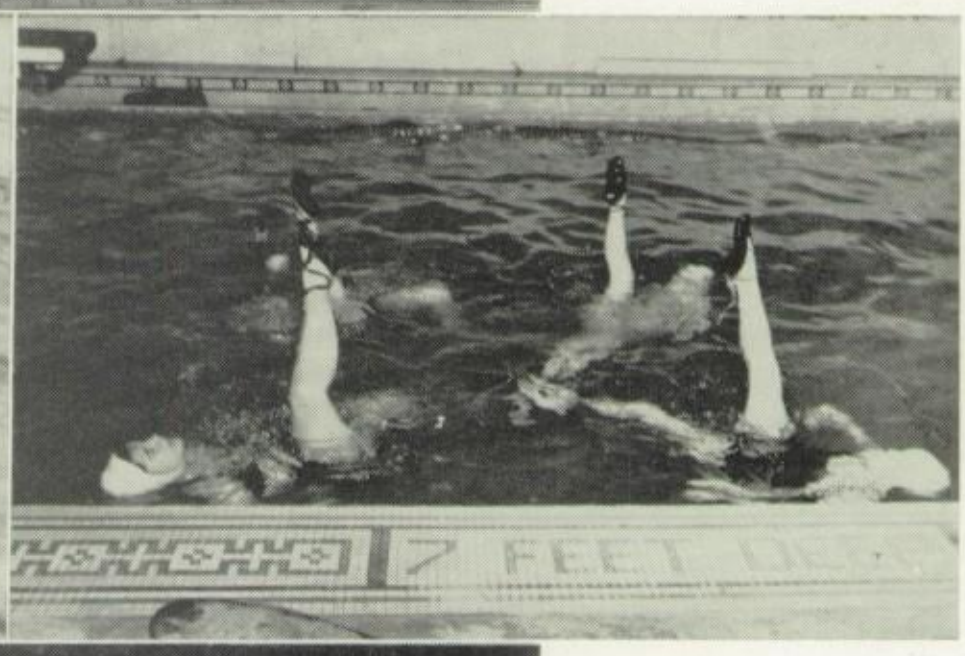
Here Come Our Future Stars!

Dolphin Club

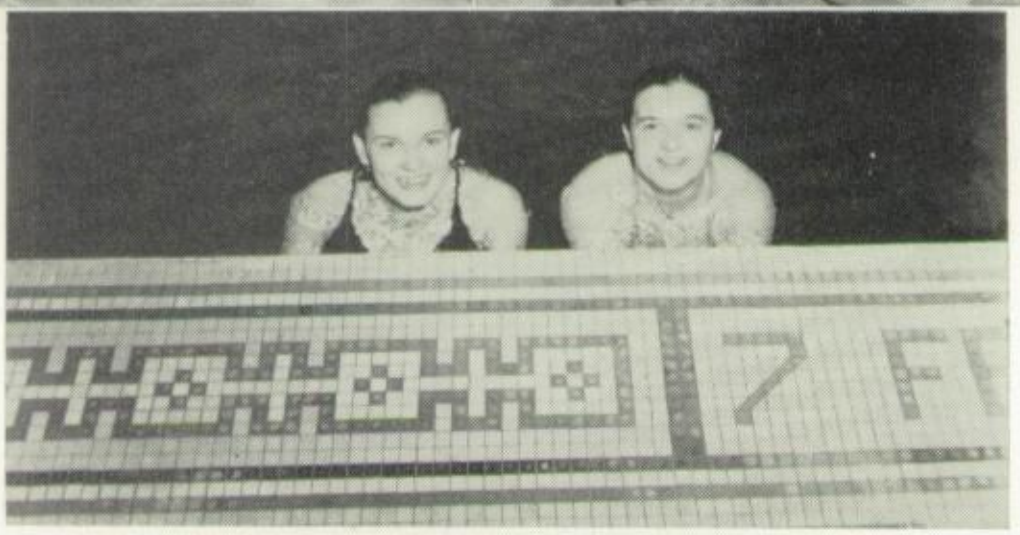


—Swimming beauties strolling down the avenue in the "Easter Parade."

—Relaxing after a long Easter Parade.



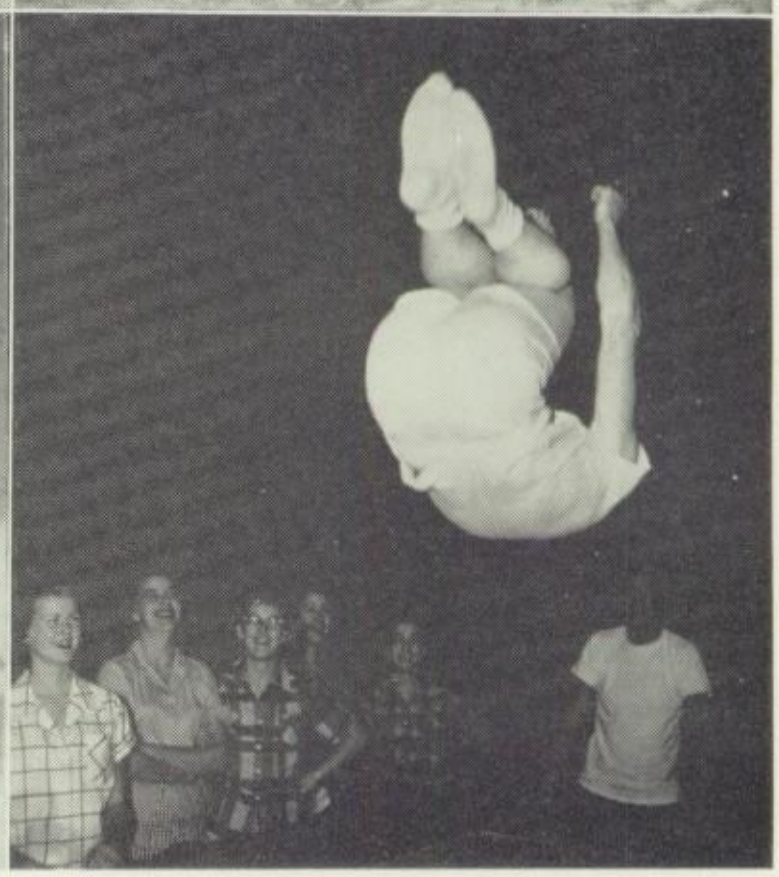
—Ballerinas dance on!



—Mary and Peggy come up for a breath.

Highlight of girls' sports was the all-girl Dolphin show, a swimming pageant laid in the atmosphere of the "Magical City." Versatile New York—Broadway, Harlem, China-town, Coney Island—created the background for this sparkling water exhibition. The clever costumes, the smooth strokes, the water rhythms made Pat Knight's Dolphin show one long to be remembered.

Girls' Sports



Hockey team—The Champions!—Carol Beach, Beverly McIntosh, Nancy Barker, Betty Stanzel, Barbara Otto, Rosemary Hansen, Myrna Campbell, Delsie Harman, Sue Bechler, Nita Olson, Mitzi Buckingham.

Poor Joy got laid out in a Rough game!

Delsie, Nita, Myrna, Nancy, and Miss Knight watch Mitzi being an acrobat.

Nita, Myrna, Nancy B., Marge Evans, Pat Hibbs watch Dick Martin on the trampoline.

Boys may have the championships, but these girls have got the champions. With their muscles and their hockey-sticks, they captured them.

Lifesaving

First row: Nancy Barker, Mary Jane McLaughlin, Marge Evans, Jack McCorkle, Jim Hoover, Max Otto, Jerry Penniman, Delsie Harman, Janet Stanzel. Second row: Dorothy Bowman, Pat Hibbs, LaVonne Oetjen, Wanda Russell, Mary Schwitzer, Carlene Jarvis, Peggy Peddicord, Mary Montag, Polly Otto, Gretchen Niewerth. Third row: Neida Bechler, Joy Carnine, Ann Shull, Barbara Otto, Pauline Glass, Barbara Lewis, Betty Stanzel, Sally Wayt, Mitzi Buckingham, Jackie Pellersels.

"Out goes the bad air; in comes the good air." She's lucky; she's alive because these swimmers took lifesaving. Looking ahead to possible emergencies, these human-fish spent long hours in tedious practice preparing to prevent some tragic accident.
